WELCOME TO THE SAIS COMMUNITY

The Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) is one of the nation's leading graduate schools devoted to the study of international relations. A division of The Johns Hopkins University since 1950, SAIS is truly an international institution. In addition to its main campus in Washington, D.C., SAIS maintains two centers abroad—one in Bologna, Italy, and the other with Nanjing University in Nanjing, China.

Degree-seeking SAIS students pursue the two-year Master of Arts (M.A.) degree in international relations; the Master of International Public Policy (M.I.P.P.) degree, which serves the advanced educational needs of mid-career professionals; and, in selected cases, the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree. The policies, procedures and other information contained in this Red Book apply to all students.

The manual's purpose is twofold: to communicate the standards of The Johns Hopkins University that support and guide life at SAIS as part of the greater JHU community and to describe the academic policies and procedures that form a framework for conducting the school's teaching mission. Of particular importance is the Honor Code, which sets out the behavioral standards expected of all SAIS students.

The information contained in this manual is not available in any other SAIS publication, and students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with its contents. Students studying in Bologna should also consult the Bologna-specific regulations maintained by the Bologna Center Registrar.

The policies and procedures detailed in The Red Book are subject to revision at any time, and changes are communicated to SAIS students only through their assigned JHU e-mail addresses. It is imperative that you activate and monitor this account so as not to miss these and other important announcements and messages throughout the year.

NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATORY POLICY

Each year the university formally reaffirms its commitment to equal opportunity for its faculty, staff and students. As a matter of policy to which it is staunchly committed, the university does not discriminate on the basis of gender, marital status, pregnancy, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, veteran status or other legally protected characteristic. The university is committed to providing qualified individuals access to all academic and employment programs, benefits and activities on the basis of demonstrated ability, performance and merit without regard to personal factors that are irrelevant to the program involved.

The university's equal opportunity policy is essential to its mission of excellence in education and research and applies to all academic programs administered by the university, its educational policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs and athletic programs. It applies to all employment decisions, including those affecting hiring, promotion, demotion or transfer; recruitment; advertisement of vacancies; layoff and termination; compensation and benefits; and selection for training. Consistent with its obligations under law, it also extends to the maintenance of affirmative action programs for minorities, women, persons with disabilities and veterans.

Present Defense Department policies regarding sexual orientation in ROTC programs conflict with this university policy. Because ROTC is a valuable component of the university that provides an opportunity for many students to afford a Johns Hopkins University education, to train for a career, and to become positive forces in the military, the university, after careful study, has continued its ROTC program, but encourages a change in federal policy that brings it into conformity with the University's policy.

The university assigns a high priority to the implementation of its equal opportunity policy, and significant university resources are devoted to assuring compliance with all laws prohibiting discrimination in employment and educational programs. Members of the university community are encouraged to contact the Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) in Garland Hall 130, Homewood campus, 410.516.8075 (TTY 410.516.6225), or the divisional offices of Human Resources regarding any questions or concerns about these matters. (Table of Contents)

JHU PROCEDURES ON STUDENT DISCRIMINATION CLAIMS

Following its policy of nondiscrimination, The Johns Hopkins University is prepared to receive and resolve claims of discriminatory treatment that are brought to the attention of any university academic or administrative officer. Students are encouraged to bring such complaints to the immediate attention of the SAIS Associate Dean for Student Affairs, the director of the program in which the student is enrolled or the Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) on the JHU Homewood campus. Upon receipt of a complaint, OIE should be contacted immediately so that an investigation into the facts and circumstances may begin. OIE will coordinate the investigation and resolution of the complaint with affected parties and will prepare appropriate documentation pertinent to the complaint. The staff of OIE will consult with the parties involved in the dispute and make recommendations for resolution of the complaint to the affected parties and the Office of the General Counsel. Inquiries regarding procedures on discrimination complaints may be directed to the JHU Office of Institutional Equity, 130 Garland Hall, 3400 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD 21218, 410.516.8075, TTY: 410.516.6225. (Table of Contents)

STUDENT CONDUCT CODE

Students are expected to refrain from conduct that injures persons or property. The Johns Hopkins University expects all students to be law-abiding citizens, to respect the rights of others and to refrain from behavior that impairs the university's purpose or its reputation in the community. Students who have committed acts that are a danger to their own personal safety or that harm or have the potential of harming others or who destroy, impair or wrongfully appropriate property will be disciplined and may forfeit their right to be members of the university community. For example, students are expected to refrain from:

- Acts that disrupt or interfere with the orderly operation of teaching and research
- Behavior that causes or threatens harm to others
- Physical or verbal threats against or intimidation of any person that results in limiting that individual's full access to all aspects of life at the university, including persistent, unwanted contact
- Conduct that constitutes sexual abuse, assault or rape of another person
- Activity that constitutes sexual harassment of another person
- Refusing to comply with the directions of university officials, instructors, administrators or staff acting in performance of their duties
- Refusing to appear or giving false statements when asked to present evidence or to respond to an investigation in any case involving the conduct code
- Theft or vandalism of university property, or property of others, or knowingly possessing stolen property

- Unauthorized use, possession or storage of any chemicals, weapons or explosives, including fireworks, on university property
- Unauthorized distribution, possession or use of any controlled substance (such as, but not limited to, illegal drugs)
- Possession or consumption of alcohol by individuals under the legal drinking age of the District of Columbia (21 years) or the provision of alcohol to minors
- Intentionally or recklessly interfering with normal university activities or emergency services or unauthorized or improper use of university property, university facilities or the SAIS or JHU name or seal
- Failure to observe policies regulating the use of university buildings, property or other resources
- Violations of criminal law that occur on university premises or in connection with university functions that affect members of the university community or that impair the university's reputation
- Other behavior may be equally inconsistent with the standard of conduct expected of a university student and the university's commitment to providing an environment conducive to learning and research
- Students should be aware that, if they exhibit violent behavior or threaten violence, SAIS can mandate a psychological assessment as a condition of continued enrollment (Table of Contents)

HONOR CODE

Enrollment at SAIS obligates each student to conduct all activities in accordance with the rules and spirit of the school's Honor Code. The Honor Code governs student conduct at SAIS. It covers all activities in which students present information as their own, including written papers, examinations, oral presentations and materials submitted to potential employers or other educational institutions. It requires that students be truthful and exercise integrity and honesty in their dealings with others, both inside SAIS and in the larger community.

SAIS has adopted the University's Policy on Integrity in Research, which defines fraudulent abuses of strict standards of scholarship by faculty, students and staff.

Taking Examinations and Writing Papers

SAIS students may not give or accept unauthorized assistance from others in taking examinations and writing papers. Unauthorized assistance includes sharing oral and written information during exams or consulting written or electronic materials not authorized by the instructor. Each student is expected to exercise discretion in the course of an exam. The desk should be clear of all books, papers and other extraneous matter that is not specifically authorized. Tests may not be taken out of the exam room without the professor's permission or without prior approval for accommodations for students with disabilities and must be completed within the allotted time. Notes or other sources may not be consulted unless specifically authorized by the faculty member administering the exam. Electronic equipment cannot be brought into or used in a testing area unless authorized by the professor.

All material submitted should be the student's own original work. Students may receive assistance with their written English on assigned papers, not take-home exams, preferably through the English Language Studies Program. Students should indicate this assistance on the work they submit by attaching the following statement to the paper: "Assistance in terms of grammar and technical writing for this paper was provided by _____." Students are solely responsible for the analysis and research.

Plagiarism is defined as "the presentation of someone else's ideas or words as your own" (The Allyn & Bacon Handbook). JHU sets forth the following guidelines:

- Students should document any idea that is derived from another and any fact that is important to their analysis and is not common knowledge by citing the author, title, edition and page reference of the work in which they appear. Ideas and facts derived from Internet sources are to be held to the same standard. Familiar or non-controversial facts need not be annotated: e.g., Herman Melville, a native New Yorker, published many works of fiction, including Moby Dick in 1851, and published several volumes of poetry.
- Any crucial term and any phrase, sentence or longer passage derived from a text other than the student's own should be enclosed in quotation marks or typed as a separate, indented paragraph and identified in the text or in a footnote.
- When a student paraphrases someone else's analysis or follows someone else's line of reasoning, including arguments that the student may only have heard and not seen in print, the student should acknowledge that fact in the text or in a footnote. The diction and phrasing should not duplicate or closely parallel the language of the source, but should show the student can digest rather than just repeat what was heard.
- Students commit a form of plagiarism when they submit material for one course that was previously submitted for another course or when they submit the same material for two courses simultaneously. Although "self-plagiarism" does not involve undocumented use of outside sources, it is a form of cheating that violates the spirit of the Honor Code. Often a professor will allow a student to rework a previous paper, but prior consent is necessary.

- Whenever any question arises concerning proper footnote or bibliographical form or concerning what constitutes an Honor Code violation, students should check with their professors or consult a standard style manual. Recommended sources are The Chicago Manual of Style and the MLA Handbook.

Reporting Breaches of the Honor Code

Students are strongly encouraged to report breaches of the Honor Code. Any reported infractions will be dealt with in total confidentiality by an Honor Code Board. By the act of registering at SAIS, each student automatically becomes a participant in the honor system. In addition, students accept a statement during registration acknowledging an understanding of the Honor Code obligations.

Rules and procedures for the SAIS Washington, D.C., campus:

- Suspected violations of the Honor Code may be reported to either the Associate Dean for Student Affairs or the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, who will initiate the proceedings for adjudication of the allegation.
- An Honor Code Board will be convened by the Associate Deans. They will co-chair this board and select the appropriate faculty to sit on the board.
- All matters dealing with Honor Code cases are strictly confidential. The accused have the right to hear all the evidence against them and to present evidence in their defense.
- As regards the accused, an Honor Code Board is empowered only to judge whether a clear and major act of intentional intellectual dishonesty has been proved beyond a reasonable doubt. If unanimous agreement on guilt is reached, the Honor Code Board may recommend expulsion or punishment short of expulsion; if unanimous agreement on guilt is not achieved, the Honor Code Board must acquit the accused. If guilt is determined, the evidence, minutes, name and recommendation for punishment are forwarded in total confidence to the SAIS Dean for final decision; if the accused is acquitted, the case is closed, the minutes are destroyed and the Dean is notified only that an Honor Code Board has met. In both cases, total confidentiality is required of all parties involved. In no case will a comment be made on the student's transcript.
- Regardless of the judgment on the guilt or innocence of the accused, an Honor Code Board is empowered by a two-thirds majority vote to advise the faculty member concerned that the exam in question may have been compromised. In this case, the Honor Code Board may advise the faculty member that some remedial action, such as downgrading the importance of the exam, may be appropriate.

- Under no circumstances may the name of the accused, the nature of the evidence or the minutes of the deliberations be forwarded to anyone but the SAIS Dean. This information may be forwarded only when an Honor Code Board has voted unanimously to recommend punishment. Agreement to total confidentiality about all proceedings is an explicit condition of membership on an Honor Code Board.
- The SAIS Dean has the final authority to decide an appropriate measure and is the final arbiter of any proposal to separate a student from the school. The Dean may mitigate a recommendation to expel.
- All cases should be dealt with as soon as possible after being reported to protect the rights of everyone involved and to ensure a fair and speedy resolution of the case.

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law designed to protect the privacy of a student's education record and prohibits JHU from disclosing information from those records without the written consent of the student. The university fully complies with all FERPA regulations.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

The Johns Hopkins University will not tolerate sexual harassment—a form of discrimination, a violation of federal and state law, and a serious violation of university policy. In accordance with its educational mission, JHU works to educate its community regarding sexual harassment.

The university encourages individuals to report incidents of sexual harassment and provides a variety of avenues, both formal and informal, by which individuals can report complaints of sexual harassment. The university encourages reporting of all perceived incidents of sexual harassment, regardless of who the alleged offender may be. Individuals who believe either that they have become the victim of sexual harassment or that they have witnessed sexual harassment should discuss their concerns with any member of the Sexual Harassment Prevention and Resolution Program. Complainants are assured that problems of this nature will be treated in a confidential manner, subject to the university's legal obligation to respond appropriately to any and all allegations of sexual harassment.

The university prohibits acts of reprisal against anyone involved in lodging a complaint of sexual harassment. Conversely, JHU considers filing intentionally false reports of sexual harassment a violation of this policy.

The university will promptly respond to all complaints of sexual harassment. When necessary, JHU will institute disciplinary proceedings against the offending individual, which may result in a range of sanctions, including termination of university affiliation. (Table of Contents)

ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

In keeping with its basic mission, The Johns Hopkins University recognizes that its primary response to issues of alcohol and drug abuse must be through educational programs as well as intervention and treatment efforts. To that end, the University provides appropriate programs and efforts throughout the year. The brochure “Maintaining a Drug-Free Environment: The Hopkins Commitment” is available to all faculty, students and staff of The Johns Hopkins University, and copies are available on request from the offices of the Faculty and Staff Assistance Program, 4 East 33rd Street, Baltimore, MD 21218, 410.516.3800 or at the Counseling and Student Development Center located on the Homewood Campus, 410.516.8270.

The university further recognizes that alcoholism and drug addiction are illnesses that are not easily resolvable by personal effort and may require professional assistance and/or treatment. Participation in alcohol and drug educational programs may be required of a student as a condition of continued enrollment.

The university will adhere to strict policies of confidentiality for all participants in drug/alcohol abuse rehabilitation programs as described in university and federal regulations covering confidentiality of student health records.

Maryland and District of Columbia laws prohibit the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages by persons under age 21. The possession, use or distribution of illegal drugs as defined by federal, state and local statutes is prohibited.

Students are expected to obey the law. Individuals who violate the law, in addition to being subject to criminal penalties, may be subject to university disciplinary measures. Drug and alcohol-related violations must be reported to the main campus. The university will not excuse acts of misconduct by students whose judgment is impaired due to alcohol or drug abuse. (Table of Contents)

POSSESSION OF FIREARMS ON UNIVERSITY PREMISES

The possession, wearing, carrying, transporting, or use of a firearm or pellet weapon is strictly forbidden on university premises. This prohibition also extends to any person who may have acquired a government-issued permit or license. Violation of this regulation will result in disciplinary action and sanctions up to and including expulsion, in the case of students, or termination of employment, in the case of faculty and staff. Disciplinary action for violations of this regulation will be the responsibility of the divisional student affairs officer, dean or director, or the vice president for human resources, as may be appropriate, in accordance with applicable procedures. Any questions regarding this policy, including the granting of exceptions for law enforcement officers and for persons acting under the supervision of authorized university personnel, should be addressed to the appropriate chief campus security officer. (Table of Contents)

EMERGENCIES

Closing Information

In the event of severe weather conditions that necessitate canceling classes before opening hours, announcements will be made on:

- Radio stations WTOP (FM 103.5) or WASH (FM 97.1)
- TV stations WJLA (channel 7), WRC (channel 4) and WUSA (channel 9)
- JHU Weather Hotline at 1.800.548.9004
- SAIS Web site and Insider Page
- JHUniverse Web site

Students should call the Nitze Building guard's desk at 202.663.5600 and press '5' if there is any uncertainty over closings. When classes are canceled due to severe weather, the library is closed. (Table of Contents)

Crisis Response Plan

The Crisis Response Plan is intended to respond to a variety of potential crises affecting faculty, students, administrative personnel, visitors and/or property at SAIS' Washington, D.C. campus, the SAIS/JHU Bologna Center and the Hopkins-Nanjing Center, including (but not limited to):

- Weather emergencies
- Catastrophic or other significant life threatening events
- Criminal Events
- Utility and/or Structural Events

The plan provides guidelines for action in the event of certain crisis events. In all instances, it is anticipated that SAIS will follow the crisis guidelines defined in this document.

In the case of an emergency, it is essential that the university can quickly and easily notify students, faculty, and staff. Notifications of emergency situations will be made via the JHUniverse Web site and email. As a supplement, the university utilizes a text-messaging based (SMS) emergency notification system. This system will allow university officials to communicate with students, faculty, and staff very rapidly via cell-phone text messages in the case of an emergency. Participation in this system is voluntary. To sign up go to Johns Hopkins Emergency Alerts.

Students are also encouraged to designate an emergency contact person via ISIS Self-Service. This is located under the Personal Info tab. (Table of Contents)

ACADEMIC CALENDAR FOR 2010–11

The Academic Calendar for 2010–11 is located on the Registrar's section of the SAIS Web site. (Table of Contents)

ADVANCED STANDING

M.A. students who have completed a graduate degree at another institution may petition for advanced standing at SAIS. If awarded advanced standing, the number of courses required is reduced from 16 to 12 for completed graduate degrees of 2 years or more. For completed graduate degrees of less than two years, the number of courses required is reduced from 16 to 14. Students with advanced standing must meet all graduation requirements within those 12 or 14 courses.

Consideration for advanced standing is given only for relevant graduate degrees completed, not individual courses. The student should write to the Associate Dean for Student Affairs stating the relationship of the other degree to the student's concentration at SAIS and supply a copy of the transcript proving completion of the degree. (Table of Contents)

ADVISERS

Every effort is made to assign each M.A. student to a faculty adviser with expertise in the student's concentration. A student who wishes to change advisers should contact the Registrar's Office.

The adviser-student relationship implies mutual responsibility. Faculty advisers have assigned office hours and are frequently available at other times. Students are responsible for knowing these hours and taking the initiative to make alternative arrangements for meeting with their adviser if necessary. The faculty of the International Economics Program are also available to provide advice on economics courses and specializations.

Students can receive general advice and support through administrative advisers. For more information go to the Advising section of the SAIS Web site or email saisadvising@jhu.edu. (Table of Contents)

AUDITING A COURSE

A student's minimum obligation for auditing a course is to attend all class sessions. Students who intend to have an audit recorded on their SAIS transcript must obtain the professor's signature on an Audit Form, preferably early in the course, but not later than the seventh week of classes. The professor notes the requirements for auditing the class on this form, which must be submitted to the Registrar's Office. No course credit or letter grade is earned for an audited course, indicated on the transcript with "AU". If a student fails to meet the audit requirements, a Withdrawal from an Audit (W/AU) appears on the transcript.

Students can audit up to two non-language courses per semester, unless this results in a total registration of more than six non-language courses. If auditing a course brings the student to full-time enrollment, the student will be responsible for paying full tuition. Part-time M.I.P.P. students are permitted to audit two courses during their time at SAIS at no additional charge. The student must be enrolled in at least one course for a grade in order to audit during that term. The audits will be listed on the transcript.

Non-degree students or students who wish to audit SAIS Summer Programs courses must register and pay for audits.

Language courses may not be audited during the fall and spring semesters; with permission, they may be audited during the summer.

Classes that exceed their enrollment limits may not be audited.

During the fall and spring semesters, those who wish to change the status of a course from audit to credit may do so (subject to policies in the section entitled "Course Load and Full-time/Part-time Definitions for M.A. and M.I.P.P. Students") by asking the professor to sign the Audit to Credit Request Form no later than the last day of class within that term. This form is available in the Registrar's Office and must be submitted according to the deadlines located on the Academic Calendar. The professor's approval will depend on the student's regular class attendance and agreement to fulfill all the course requirements. Once changed from audit status to credit status, the course status cannot be reversed. (Table of Contents)

BIDDING SYSTEM

To help students gain entry to oversubscribed classes, the SAISbids system is used at both the Washington, D.C., and Bologna, Italy, campuses. Students are allocated points when they matriculate at SAIS. M.A. students receive 1,000 points for their first semester and 100 additional points after each successfully completed semester. M.I.P.P. students receive 1,100 points and Ph.D. students 1,300 points. Any student studying at SAIS under a formal student exchange program will receive 325 points.

Once students submit a request for joint-degree status or advanced standing and that request is approved, they receive an additional 100 points.

Students may use their points to bid for entry into oversubscribed classes. Those who bid the highest number of points gain entry and are charged that number of points. Students who do not gain entry retain their bid points. Registered students who do not bid are treated as bidding zero points. If two or more students have the same bid at enrollment cutoff, a lottery determines which students will be enrolled in the class. Students who bid more than their available points will not gain entry to the class.

The foundation economics classes of Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, International Trade Theory and International Monetary Theory are generally offered in multiple sections each semester. The goal is to have relatively equal enrollment between the sections of the same course. Bidding may be necessary to preserve some balance in enrollments.

Two rounds of bidding are held for courses that are oversubscribed. The first round takes place prior to the first class and involves the foundation economics classes and a limited number of other classes. Bidding for all other classes that are oversubscribed at the end of the online drop/add period takes place after the first week of classes. Students should have substitutes selected for classes that may involve bidding. Students should attempt to attend part or all of the first class of the semester for both their first choice and alternate classes.

Information on oversubscribed courses and bidding deadlines is posted on the Registrar's Web page. Students are responsible for viewing that Web page and taking the required action.

M.A. students in their final two semesters need not bid on limited enrollment classes offered by programs in which they are primary concentrators unless there are more primary concentrators registered than spaces available. In that rare situation, these concentrators must bid against each other.

At least one M.I.P.P. student who bids will be accepted into a limited enrollment course where entry to the class is determined by bidding. M.I.P.P. students who affiliate with a program will receive additional bidding privileges. They will receive automatic entry into any required introductory courses. Additionally, some programs may elect to provide limited priority access to M.I.P.P. students, but no priority access will be available for economics courses. M.I.P.P. students affiliated with a program that allows priority access will only be eligible in one course in their area of affiliation. Priority access means that the student does not need to bid unless the number of students with priority access is higher than the number of seats available in the class. If the number of students with priority access exceeds the number of available seats in the class, priority students will bid against one another. This bidding benefit will be applicable only to a course within the area of affiliation; it cannot be applied to a cross-listed course.

CAPSTONE REQUIREMENT FOR M.A. STUDENTS

All M.A. students are required to complete a capstone in order to graduate. This is an integrative project or experience within the non-economics concentration and requires an assessment. It is at the discretion of program directors to determine what constitutes a capstone. Generally, a capstone should be completed in a student's second year. If the capstone occurred during the first year, the final outcome/product should be submitted in the second year and should be integrative in nature. Some programs may choose to allow the M.A. Oral Exam, to compete for honors, as one of the capstone options. For more information, visit the individual program sites. (Table of Contents)

CHANGE OF CONCENTRATION

Upon admission to SAIS, areas of concentration for M.A. students are recorded by the Registrar's Office. Students who desire to change their concentration may inform the Registrar's Office before enrolling in classes for the first semester. Students in their first and second semesters must obtain the signatures of the Program Coordinators in the concentration they are leaving and the concentration they are entering via the Concentration Change Form. Third and fourth semester students must also fill out the Concentration Change Form, but they must obtain the signatures of Program Directors in both concentrations. The form must be submitted to the Registrar's Office. If a student changes concentrations, current requirements for that concentration must be followed. Concentration changes cannot be made during bidding and must be changed prior to the deadline set by the Registrar's Office, no later than two weeks before the online registration deadline. Students cannot change their concentration to International Development as students must be accepted into this concentration during the admissions process. In addition, first-year D.C. students cannot change their concentration to Energy, Resources and Environment as students must be accepted into this concentration during the admissions process beginning with the 2009-2010 academic year. COURSE LOAD AND FULL-TIME/PART-TIME DEFINITIONS FOR M.A. AND M.I.P.P. STUDENTS

Sixteen non-language courses are required for graduation with the SAIS M.A. degree. This requirement is reduced to 12 for joint degree students and students with advanced standing with graduate degrees of two or more years duration. This requirement is reduced to 14 for students with advanced standing with graduate degrees of less than two years duration. Three courses constitute a full-time load—one of the three may be a language class. The normal course load is four courses and a language class until language proficiency is met. M.A. students must spend a minimum of three fall or spring semesters in full-time residence.

M.I.P.P. students taking three or more courses, language included, are considered full-time. Eight non-language courses are required to fulfill requirements for the M.I.P.P. degree. For exception, see Auditing a Course section.

Students in both Washington, D.C., and Bologna generally take four non-language courses per semester. Students must obtain permission from academic advising to take five non-language courses for credit in a semester if they are 1) taking a language, 2) have past failing grades or 3) have current Incomplete grades. For all other students, no permission is needed as long as they have met the language requirement for graduation and are not taking a language course (post-proficiency language courses can be taken along with the five courses). Students must also have a minimum grade point average (GPA) of B+ (3.33). Students in both Washington and Bologna may not take more than five non-language courses for credit per semester. A student cannot be registered for or audit more than a total of six non-language courses per semester. (Table of Contents)

COURSES AT OTHER CAMPUSES

M.A. students may, with approval of Manager of Graduate Services and the appropriate faculty member, take the equivalent of up to two courses toward their SAIS degree at other divisions of JHU or in the M.B.A. program at the University of Maryland's Robert H. Smith School of Business. M.I.P.P. students may take up to one class by following the same procedures.

Ph.D. students may take an unlimited number of courses at other campuses while in pre-dissertation status. (Table of Contents)

DEAN'S LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION FOR FURTHER GRADUATE STUDY

Students who have applied for further graduate study at other schools and need a letter of recommendation from the dean should provide the Associate Director for Student Life with the necessary forms from the schools, a copy of their application statement, a résumé and an addressed envelope well in advance of the date due. (Table of Contents)

DISABILITIES

In accordance with the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA), The Johns Hopkins University provides students with disabilities special accommodations during their time at SAIS. Students with documented disabilities who require an academic adjustment, auxiliary or other similar accommodation should submit the Student Request for Accommodations Form to the Associate Director for Student Life. A comprehensive evaluation of a specific disability from a qualified diagnostician must accompany this form. For more information, visit the Disabilities Services section of the SAIS Web site. (Table of Contents)

DROP/ADD/WITHDRAW

Students may change their courses any time during SAIS's online registration and online drop/add period in the first week of classes. Dropped courses will not appear on a student's transcript. During the second week of classes, drop/adds may be made in person at the Registrar's Office. Only exceptional drop/adds may be made in person at the Registrar's Office during the third and fourth weeks of classes. If a student has missed two or more classes, they must obtain written permission from that faculty member to add the course via the Add/Drop/Withdraw Form. From the fifth to seventh week of classes, students may withdraw from a course via the Add/Drop/Withdraw Form. Withdrawing from a course means that a "W" will be placed on the student's transcript. The "W" grade does not affect a student's GPA. If a student's status (full-time or part-time) is affected by changing courses, the student should be aware of the Refund Policy. (Table of Contents)

EXAMINATIONS

All examinations at SAIS are given under the Honor Code. Students are expected to write their exams in blue books unless the instructor tells them otherwise. Students sign a printed pledge on the front of each blue book to abide by the Honor Code. Students may also be asked to use electronic software to take exams or may be required to complete take-home exams or papers. The Honor Code applies to these options as well. (Table of Contents)

Core Examinations

All M.A. candidates at SAIS must pass either an examination or a class in at least two of these four core subjects*:

- American Foreign Policy Since World War II
- Comparative National Systems
- Evolution of the International System
- Theories of International Relations

M.A. students are expected to pass the two required core exams by the beginning of their third semester and no later than the beginning of their final semester. Certain programs require specific core exams be completed earlier than the beginning of the fourth semester. Consult program requirements for core deadlines. Students should check their program requirements carefully in planning which core exams to take. No M.A. candidate is permitted to take the M.A. Oral Exam to compete for honors until core requirements have been met.

Core exams are generally given four times a year—in September, December, January and April/May. In some cases, two versions of the exam are offered. Consult the Registrar's section of the SAIS Web site for the most current information on the dates of exam offerings and the versions offered. Syllabi for the core exams and sample exam questions can be obtained on the Academic Affairs section of the Web site.

The failure of a core exam is not officially recorded when no course credit is involved. Although students are required to complete core exams prior to their fourth and/or final semester, they are strongly encouraged to fulfill both core requirements by the beginning of their third semester. Students who fail to pass or fulfill a core exam requirement by the beginning of their final semester will be required to register for the core course for credit.

Core exams that are not taken for credit are also graded. Passing grades of B- and higher will appear on the student's transcript, but will not be applied toward GPA calculations. Students have the option of taking the exam a second time for a higher grade that then replaces the lower grade on the transcript. Students who fail a core exam twice will be required to take the core course for credit. In that situation, the only recorded grade will be the grade received in the class. (Table of Contents)

All M.A. European Studies students are required to pass three comprehensive exams in lieu of the two core exams: Modern European History and Ideas (1620-1950), Pan-European Political Economies (post-1945) and Europe and the World Since 1945.*

Final Course Examinations

There is great variety in the structure of final examinations at SAIS. They may be closed book, open book, take-home, written or oral. Instructors determine the type of exam and whether there will be a final exam in their course. Final written exams are usually three hours in length, although this varies from course to course. Examinations are given in the same room as the regular class meeting unless otherwise specified.

If students find they have more than two in-class exams in a 24-hour period, they may petition the Registrar for an alternative schedule no later than three weeks prior to the exam date. (Table of Contents)

Language Qualification Examinations

All SAIS degree students, with the exception of M.I.P.P. students, need to take and pass language proficiency examinations in one of the languages taught at SAIS as part of their graduation requirements. International M.A. students whose native language is not English may use English as their proficiency language provided their concentration does not require a specific language for proficiency.

Students are not required to take language classes at SAIS in order to pass the language proficiency exam if they have gained the necessary proficiency elsewhere. However, it is advisable to contact the appropriate language coordinator to determine a reasonable plan of study in preparation for fulfillment of the language requirement. Students should not be taking more than eight hours of language instruction per semester. Regional concentrations require specific languages to meet their language graduation requirements.

In addition to the TOEFL or IELTS exams required for admission, all international students need to take an English placement exam prior to the start of language classes to determine whether they need further training to succeed in their studies at SAIS. An international student who studied at least the last three full years of high school in a U.S. accredited high school may request an exemption for the first-semester English placement exam requirement. To be exempted, students must provide a letter from their school stating the number of years/semesters they attended the school as well as the name of the school's accreditation agency. Graduates of American schools abroad also need to provide this information. Students who have attended a school affiliated with the British system and who have passed their British A-level exams can use these test results to demonstrate having studied high school courses in English and as grounds for exemption from the first semester English placement exam requirement.

Non-exempt International M.A. and Ph.D. students who do not pass the first semester English placement exam will be required to take English language classes at SAIS and may be asked to reduce the number of non-language courses taken per semester. Those English language classes must be continued until the student has either passed the English proficiency exam, or passed the advanced-high level of English in the skills that were not previously passed at that level. Non-exempt International M.I.P.P. students who do not pass the first semester English placement exam may fulfill this requirement by taking and passing two semesters of English language instruction at SAIS.

For specific information and details on language qualification examinations, visit the Language Studies Program office or view the Language Studies Web site. (Table of Contents)

Master of Arts Oral Examination (to compete for honors—if eligible)

The M.A. oral exam tests students' knowledge of international economics and their chosen functional or regional concentration. Exams are held in August, December and May and are scheduled by the SAIS Registrar's Office. Only the top 30 percent of the student body are eligible to compete for honors. The 30 percent cutoff is determined by students' GPAs after their third semester (after the second semester for students who have advanced standing of one semester). Students with conferral dates of August or December will be selected to compete for honors based on the previous May's GPA cutoff.

Two examiners administer the oral exam: a full- or part-time professor from the student's functional or regional program, and an international economist from the SAIS faculty or from the local academic, government or policy community. If a student is pursuing a third concentration, three examiners will administer the oral exam.

The initial topic of discussion will be chosen by the student and should attempt to involve an issue from their regional or functional area that also incorporates economic concepts. A short description of this topic (not to exceed one page or 350 words) must be written in advance of the oral exam and provided to each examiner at the beginning of the exam. The student is not allowed to hold a copy of this summary or any other materials during the exam. The examiners may ask for a brief two- or three-minute introduction to the topic at the beginning of the exam. The two examiners will use the remainder of the exam to ask the student questions; there should be a mostly balanced flow of questions from both examiners. The discussion will seek to apply broader concepts to real-world situations in an interdisciplinary and conversational manner. Economics questions draw primarily on the application of concepts covered in foundation economics courses, but can also cover issues from the student's electives. Students should consult their regional or functional programs for details on potential discussion topics.

Each examiner provides a grade for the oral exam. The student's overall grade is the average of the examiners' grades. Only the top 10 percent of the graduating class may receive honors. If there is a tie on the oral scores to reach the top 10%, the tie is settled using the students' GPAs.

Students may not request specific faculty members for their oral examination nor can they request a specific day or time for the exam. Students need to be available during the dates set aside for oral exams. Any unavoidable conflicts should be discussed with the Registrar's Office early in the semester. (Table of Contents)

FINANCIAL AID ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

Federal Aid

In order to receive and maintain federal aid at SAIS, students are expected to be enrolled full-time and making satisfactory academic progress, and must have a minimum GPA of 2.67. For more information, view the SAIS Student Satisfactory Progress \(SAP\) Policy for Federal Aid. All required financial aid documents should be completed and submitted to the Office of Financial Aid by their respective due dates.

Institutional Fellowships

Students must maintain full-time status and a minimum GPA of 3.25 to receive and maintain fellowship aid at SAIS. SAIS applications must be submitted to the Office of Financial Aid by February 15, of each year. (Table of Contents)

GRADES

Students may obtain their grades using the Integrated Student Information System, ISIS. The highest grade given at SAIS is A. The lowest passing grade is B-. A grade of C is failing. The following grades and symbols are used on SAIS transcripts:

Grade	Description	GPA Points	Credits Earned
A	Excellent	4.00	Yes
A-	Very good	3.67	Yes
B+	Good	3.33	Yes
B	Passing	3.00	Yes
B-	Minimal pass	2.67	Yes
C	Failure (also used when an Incomplete grade has not been made up by the deadline)	0.00	No
F	Administrative failure (result of an Honor Code violation or when unfulfilled financial or academic obligations exist on non-degree student records)	0.00	No
S	Satisfactory completion of a non-credit course	n/a	No
MT	Multi-term course	n/a	No

Grade	Description	GPA Points	Credits Earned
EX	Extension granted	n/a	No
X	Missing grade (not yet submitted)	n/a	No
MR	Missing from roster	n/a	No
I	Incomplete	n/a	No
W	Withdrawal	n/a	No
W/AU	Withdrawal from an audit	n/a	No
AU	Audit	n/a	No

Grade point average and rank in class are available in mid-July for each graduating class. This information does not appear on the student's transcript, but it is kept on file and provided upon request to the student and to prospective employers or universities where the student is seeking admission. Grades in language classes are not included in the GPA. (Table of Contents)

Failing Grades

A failing grade (C or F) cannot be removed from a student's SAIS transcript. If the course is retaken, it appears a second time on the transcript with a new grade. The failing grade is also figured into the GPA. A student who receives a second failing grade before the first failing grade is made up, absent extenuating circumstances, will be dismissed from the school. Students who receive one failing grade or more than one B- are required to meet with the Director of Academic Affairs.

A failing grade of C is placed on the transcript if a course is not finished by the deadline for satisfying an Incomplete.

A failing grade of F, resulting from a violation of the Honor Code, cannot be removed.

A non-degree student who receives a failing grade will not be eligible to take additional coursework at SAIS. Non-degree students who were conditionally accepted to SAIS and who have not met that condition by the end of that term will receive an administrative F. (Table of Contents)

Grades of Incomplete

A grade of I (Incomplete) may be given by a professor at the end of the semester. Students should submit all required work by the end of the eighth week of the following semester. Summer does not constitute a semester. Summer students must submit all required work by the end of the eighth week of the fall semester. After eight weeks into the following semester, no grade higher than a B+ will be assigned in a course where an Incomplete has been allowed. The Incomplete automatically becomes a failing grade of C on the last day of class of the following semester if a grade has not been submitted by that time. Students receiving such marks are required to register for an extra course in a subsequent semester if they need to meet the total course requirement for their degree program.

The instructor has authority to shorten or extend this deadline and has the discretion not to grant an Incomplete. Students who wish to petition for an extension of the above deadline must write a letter to the Registrar stating the basis for the request. The Registrar, with permission of the professor, may grant exceptions to the deadline.

In extenuating circumstances where Incompletes still appear on student records after two and a half years, those Incomplete courses must either be retaken or other courses must be taken in their place to complete degree requirements. (Table of Contents)

GRADUATION

To be eligible for graduation or to walk in the May graduation ceremony, students must complete an online Application to Graduate by the relevant deadline. Students are strongly encouraged to periodically review their academic records with their academic program or academic advising prior to the application deadline. Many potential problems can be avoided or rectified by this communication.

In order to graduate, students must satisfy all academic requirements. Students must also clear all financial and library accounts and obligations, and resolve all charges of misconduct or violations of academic ethics.

A fee is assessed in advance for replacement diplomas that need to be specially ordered.

Graduation with Honors (M.A.) or Distinction (M.I.P.P.)

Graduating M.A. students are selected for honors based on their performance on the M.A. oral exam. The top 30 percent of graduating M.A. students, as established by their GPA at the end of their third semester (end of second semester for students with advanced standing of one semester), have the option of taking the oral exam in order to compete for honors. The students receiving the highest grade on the oral exam, not to exceed the top 10 percent of the graduating M.A. class, are designated as “Graduating with Honors.” See the Master of Arts Oral Examination section of this book for more information.

The top 10 percent of the graduating M.I.P.P. students are designated as “Graduating with Distinction.” This notation is posted on the student’s transcript following the conferral of the degree.

The Christian A. Herter Award is given to the member of the graduating M.A. class with the highest GPA during the first three semesters.

Graduation Ceremony Eligibility

Students whose Application to Graduate has been approved may “walk” or participate in the graduation ceremony. M.A. students may walk if they lack only two completed courses; they may not walk if they lack more than two completed courses (i.e., two completed courses plus language proficiency or two completed courses plus a core exam). M.I.P.P. students may walk if they have completed all but one of their eight required courses. Courses in which Incomplete or failing grades were received are not considered “completed.” (Table of Contents)

HEALTH INSURANCE

University policy requires that all full-time SAIS students maintain adequate health insurance coverage to provide protection against unexpected accidents and illnesses. Full-time students must purchase the university’s student health insurance or complete a waiver demonstrating U.S.-based health insurance coverage comparable to the JHU plan. All current degree students will be automatically enrolled in the Aetna Student Health insurance plan unless their waiver is approved. Contact the Student Accounts Manager with questions regarding the waiver. Non-degree students are not eligible to enroll in the University’s health insurance plan. For more information, visit the Healthcare section of the SAIS Web site. (Table of Contents)

IDENTIFICATION CARDS (JCARDS)

Student identification cards (JCards) will be available at Pre-Term or orientation, or students can pick them up at the Nitze Computer Lab, during designated hours. Students may use their JCards to gain entry into the school buildings after 6pm and to check out books from the library. JCards are also used to pay for on-campus meals, printing and copying. If a student loses their JCard, they will be charged a replacement fee. (Table of Contents)

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Independent study courses for SAIS credit are required to be approved in advance. To request an independent study, students must use the Application for Independent Study for Credit Form, which must be signed by the student, the supervising instructor (a full-time faculty member) and the program director. A one-page prospectus must be appended. The student either prepares one long research paper or several short papers combined with periodic meetings with the faculty supervisor or sits for an examination. Upon completion of the course, to receive credit, the student must again have the form signed by the faculty supervisor and return it to the Registrar. Rules for Incomplete courses apply equally to independent study courses (see section on Grades of Incomplete).

Students are permitted to count one independent study course toward their graduation requirements for the M.A. or M.I.P.P. program. Non-degree students are not eligible to pursue independent study coursework.

No academic credit is given for work experience. A student who holds a job with strong academic content may, however, use job-related research as part of an independent study project with a member of the faculty. Credit for such a project is subject to the general rules for independent study. (Table of Contents)

INFORMATION & TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

SAIS Information & Technology Services \(ITS\) offers numerous services to students, including wireless Internet access, e-mail, access to several computer labs and file storage. To utilize these services, students must first activate their accounts.

Johns Hopkins Enterprise Directory Online Services

All students receive a Johns Hopkins Enterprise Directory ID. The Johns Hopkins Enterprise Directory (JHED) is a centralized online source for address, telephone, e-mail and other contact information for students, faculty and staff at JHU institutions. This database is also used for authentication into online applications, such as billing, registration, grade lookup and Blackboard, a tool for online teaching. SAIS ITS offers detailed instructions to help students activate their JHED account.

Outlook Live Email Account

Each student is provided an Outlook Live email account. SAIS uses this email account for all administrative communication, so students are required to check their inboxes regularly or configure their JHU email to forward to their preferred email account. For more information, visit the ITS section of the SAIS Web site.

Service Desk (SD)

The SD will serve as the single point of contact for end-users who need help with any technology issues (incidents) including student IT support, classroom technology, mailroom services and special events requiring technology. In order to ensure optimal customer service while executing requests, any necessary coordination with other departments will also be handled by the SD. (Table of Contents)

INSTITUTIONAL REVIEW BOARD

The university's Homewood Institutional Review Board (HIRB) must exempt or approve human participant research within its jurisdiction, which includes SAIS, before contact with participants or identifiable private information is initiated. Tools on the HIRB Web site and the Office for Human Research Protections Web site can help students determine whether their project is human participant research that requires review and approval by HIRB.

When in doubt, students are encouraged to contact the HIRB Office for assistance in determining whether a proposed activity is human participant research that requires review and either exemption or approval by HIRB. Final determination as to whether an activity is human participant research lies with HIRB and is made on a case-by-case basis. (Table of Contents)

JOHNS HOPKINS STUDENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Johns Hopkins Student Assistance Program (JHSAP) is a professional counseling service that assists enrolled students in Washington with managing problems of daily living, such as stress, relationships and other demands that might affect their emotional well-being. JHSAP is a confidential resource that can help identify stressful situations and problems and support students in addressing them. JHSAP services focus on problem solving through short-term counseling. The program is fully sponsored by SAIS and provided to the student at no cost. For more information or to schedule an appointment, visit the JHSAP Web site or call 866.764.2317. (Table of Contents)

JOINT-DEGREE PROGRAMS

SAIS students wishing to pursue a joint degree in a formal or approved ad hoc program may do so either by being admitted concurrently to both schools or by being admitted to the second school during their first year at SAIS. Students admitted to an approved joint-degree program during their first year at SAIS are responsible for informing the Registrar. The number of courses required for students in approved joint-degree programs is reduced from 16 to 12. All graduation requirements must be completed within these 12 courses. Students admitted to an additional graduate program during their second year will not be considered joint-degree students.

Ad hoc joint-degree arrangements with SAIS must conform to the expectations established by the formal joint-degree programs (for example, the SAIS/Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania M.A.-M.B.A. Program) and should be confirmed in writing. Students should also be able to demonstrate the international relevance and other specific curricular and/or programmatic strengths of the institution being proposed. These considerations should be linked to the student's career objective.

Students who leave SAIS to pursue the second degree must request a leave of absence from SAIS, even if all SAIS requirements have been completed. Students in all joint-degree programs, formal or ad hoc, must complete the requirements of both institutions before receiving either degree.

Students are responsible for filling out the Application to Graduate and contacting the SAIS Registrar's Office at the beginning of the final semester at the other program to ensure their name is on the SAIS diploma order list and that all SAIS requirements have been completed.

For questions involving joint-degree arrangements, see the Manager of Graduate Services. (Table of Contents)

LEAVE OF ABSENCE AND WITHDRAWAL

Students who find it necessary to take a leave of absence from SAIS must make the request in writing to the Associate Dean for Student Affairs. Normally, a leave of absence will be granted for no more than two academic years. The appropriate Leave of Absence Request Form can be found on the Registrar's section of the SAIS Web site and should be submitted to the Associate Dean for Student Affairs. Once written permission has been granted, the form should be submitted to the Registrar.

Students, with permission from the Associate Dean for Student Affairs, may take a leave of absence for up to two years. After more than two years, if they wish to return, they need to petition for reinstatement. In order to complete their degree, students who return from a leave of absence or from withdrawing after more than two years must follow the current degree requirements for that academic term. Under no circumstances may students take more than 10 years to complete their M.A. or M.I.P.P. degree requirements after enrollment as a degree candidate.

The deadline for requesting a leave of absence is November 1, for the spring 2011 semester and March 1, for the fall 2011 semester. A penalty fee equaling $500 will be assessed after these deadlines. Students may request a waiver of the fee in cases of emergency or for documented medical reasons and for academic reasons as determined by their program. Alternatively, students may withdraw from the school and request readmission before the application deadline set for the semester they wish to return. They should contact the Admissions Office for information on the reapplication process. Students who withdraw from SAIS and are subsequently readmitted must meet the current graduation requirements. Readmitted students need not pay another matriculation fee. Consideration is not given for tuition paid previously for unfinished coursework. The only exceptions to this policy are involuntary leaves of absence; see below. A leave of absence normally begins at the end of a semester, when a student has completed coursework for that semester.

Students on leave of absence must notify the Associate Dean for Student Affairs in writing of their intention to resume the program in the next semester by submitting the Return from Leave of Absence Request Form. Once written permission has been granted, the form should be submitted to the Registrar. The deadline for notification is November 1, for the spring 2011 semester and January 14, for the fall 2011 semester. Students considering changing their enrollment status are encouraged to consult the Office of Financial Aid regarding the impact on any financial aid funds received. International students in F-1 or J-1 visa status must also notify the International Student and Scholar Services Director.

A student who wants to withdraw from all courses must inform the Associate Dean for Student Affairs via letter. This action is considered to be a withdrawal from SAIS. If eligible, refund of tuition payments will be made to students withdrawing of their own accord (see section on Refund Policy). (Table of Contents)

Involuntary Leave of Absence

Students may be asked to withdraw or may be placed on an involuntary medical leave of absence when their physical or mental health or the manifestations of their health render them unfit to continue the course of study. Prior notice and the opportunity to be heard will, under ordinary circumstances, be given before the imposition of an involuntary leave of absence. However, SAIS reserves the right to conclude that, on certain occasions, conditions exist that warrant an immediate leave of absence in order to avert imminent harm to the student or to other persons or property. In such an event, a student on an involuntary leave of absence will be apprised immediately of procedures for appeal and reinstatement by the Associate Dean for Student Affairs. SAIS may consult the Johns Hopkins Student Assistance Program regarding a student's fitness to continue at SAIS. (Table of Contents)

LIMITED CLASSES

Professors may limit enrollment in their class. Limits are noted in ISIS. A bidding system for limited classes is used for oversubscribed classes (see section on Bidding System).

Non-degree students are not admitted to limited classes that are likely to exceed their limits and are not eligible to participate in the SAIS bidding process. (Table of Contents)

LOCKERS

Lockers for full-time SAIS students may be arranged with the Registrar's Office. Locker assignments are on a first-come, first-served basis. Lockers are located in the basement. Students are responsible for providing their own locks and emptying their lockers at the end of May. SAIS claims no responsibility for items left in lockers that may be disposed of by a future tenant or by the school. On June 15, all lockers are opened and cleaned. Lockers are reassigned to current students each year. (Table of Contents)

PART-TIME/NON-DEGREE STUDENTS

A part-time/non-degree student takes only one or two courses per semester, regardless of the content, and must formally apply for admission to attend SAIS on a part-time/non-degree basis. Applications are available online, and admission is approved on a space-available basis. Admission to part-time/non-degree programs does not imply admission to a degree program at SAIS. If a part-time/non-degree student is later admitted to SAIS as an M.A. candidate, credit can be given for up to four courses taken as a non-degree student. For the M.I.P.P. and Ph.D. programs, credit can be given for up to two courses. A Non-Degree Petition Form must be submitted to the Registrar's Office in order to receive credit. Credit must be requested within 10 years of when the coursework was completed.

Students may take a total of four courses on a part-time/non-degree basis at SAIS. Students can petition the Office of Academic Affairs to take additional non-degree courses. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs reviews the petition along with the Office of Academic Affairs. A part-time/non-degree student may take core courses, but needs permission from the Part-time/Non-Degree Office to sit for core exams. (Table of Contents)

PH.D. PROGRAM

SAIS M.A. students who wish to apply to the Ph.D. program should do so during their second year by the February 1 deadline. Program Directors review applicants to their programs and may nominate up to two candidates per year for admission. The Ph.D. Committee makes final decisions on the basis of recommendations from the Program Directors, and applicants are notified of these decisions in early April.

Candidates for the Ph.D. program must maintain a B+ average with no grade below a B-. Students are permitted only one failing grade from all three comprehensive exams and must pass the one permitted retake of the failed exam.

For detailed information regarding Ph.D. requirements and policies, visit the Ph.D. section of the SAIS Web site. (Table of Contents)

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Students in the M.A. program are responsible for ensuring that program requirements for their concentration are satisfied. Students can review their progress with their academic program or administrative adviser at any time.

Program requirements are detailed on each program’s section of the SAIS Web site and may be modified from year to year. Therefore, the program requirements to be met are the ones listed on the Web site at the time of a student’s first enrollment as a degree candidate. Further information about program requirements can be obtained from the individual programs. (Table of Contents)

REFUND POLICY

The SAIS refund policy is strongly adhered to and is charted below. The refund is administered if there is a change in status from full-time to part-time study, a change in part-time study from two courses to one course or if a student withdraws from SAIS altogether.

During first week	100% refund
During second week	90% refund
During third week	80% refund
During fourth week	70% refund
During fifth week	60% refund
During sixth week	50% refund
During seventh week	40% refund
During eighth week	No refund

Withdrawal due to Honor Code violations is not subject to the refund policy.

Summer term refund policies do not follow this schedule and are noted in the Summer Programs catalog and on the Web site.

Non-degree students forfeit their tuition deposit in addition to being subject to the withdrawal refund policy. (Table of Contents)

REGISTRATION FOR COURSES

For the fall and spring semesters, SAIS degree students are expected to register online for courses during the published dates of online registration. Student accounts are settled at that time with the Business Office. Class schedules, course syllabi and course evaluations to assist with course selection are available online. Non-degree students registering in fall or spring should follow the procedures stated on the Part-Time and Non-Degree section of the SAIS Web site. For summer classes, all students should register via the appropriate forms on the Office of Summer Programs section of the SAIS Web site. (Table of Contents)

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCES

Recognizing that SAIS students represent a wide variety of cultural and religious backgrounds, the faculty and administration have adopted a policy of reasonable flexibility regarding the scheduling of mandatory dates. If a religious observance prevents students from being present for an exam, they should discuss the conflict with their professor at least three weeks in advance of the exam (or when the class is first notified of the exam date, if less than three weeks before the exam). Where students are observing a traditional religious fast, professors will attempt to administer their exam either early in the morning or later in the evening in order to allow the students to eat before taking the exam. This policy will be applied on a case-by-case basis. (Table of Contents)

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for the M.A. degree must complete a minimum of three fall or spring semesters as a full-time resident at SAIS. At least one of these full-time semesters must be at SAIS's Washington, D.C., campus. After completing the residency requirement, students must complete their coursework in no more than two additional semesters. SAIS staff members are required to spend one year in residence full-time if admitted to the M.A. program.

All first-year M.A. students enrolled at the Bologna Center are encouraged to remain in residence for the full year. Under special circumstances, written requests for exception will be considered. (Table of Contents)

STUDENT'S RIGHT TO KNOW

In compliance with Title VV and other Federal and State disclosure laws SAIS has listed consumer information for prospective and current students. For more information visit the SRTK Web site. (Table of Contents)

SUMMER PROGRAMS

SAIS students may enroll in the school's summer courses and must observe the application deadlines and process of the Office of Summer Programs. A maximum of two courses may be taken during a summer session. No combination of summer courses may count toward the full-time residency requirement. (Table of Contents)

TEXTBOOKS

SAIS does not operate a bookstore on campus. Students can order and sell their textbooks online via MBS Direct. Students may also use other online sites to purchase textbooks. (Table of Contents)

TRANSCRIPTS

Official transcripts are provided free of charge while degree-seeking students are enrolled at SAIS. Part-time/non-degree students receive one transcript free of charge per semester; additional transcripts are $5 each. After graduation or departure from the school, transcripts may be ordered for $5 each by mailing or faxing the Transcript Request Form to the Registrar's Office. Alternatively, students can order transcripts electronically via the National Student Clearinghouse. SAIS reserves the right to deny transcripts to students or alumni with financial holds. (Table of Contents)

TRAVEL BY STUDENTS

SAIS students often travel abroad during the course of their graduate education, both for internships and to pursue educational opportunities. On occasion, such travel may take them to places where personal safety and security are potentially at issue. All students contemplating travel are urged to take advantage of available resources to monitor safety conditions in other countries.

The Department of State (DoS) posts travel and safety advisories and warnings, in addition to visa and medical information.

Students who wish to travel to a country on the DoS Travel Warning list, for a SAIS-sponsored program or internship, must obtain special permission from their Program Director and from the Associate Deans for Finance and Administration and Student Affairs. All SAIS students traveling abroad must sign a liability waiver.

Students traveling on a university-sponsored trip or funded by the SAIS Student Internship Fund are required to complete an online Emergency Contact Form, Liability Waiver and Travel Checklist before their departure. The forms are available on the Student Life section of the SAIS Web site. (Table of Contents)

VISAS AND OTHER IMMIGRATION MATTERS

The SAIS Office of International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS) is charged with monitoring legislation, regulations and policies at the federal, state and local levels that affect international educational exchange, and with interpreting and applying those directives in the SAIS environment in support of The Johns Hopkins University's teaching, research and community service goals.

The ISSS Director serves as the main resource for information regarding maintenance of a student's legal status in the United States and their employment options. The ISSS Director does not work for the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services and is not an agent of the U.S. government. The position is, however, charged with administering the F and J federal visa programs and is responsible for university compliance with federal regulations governing those programs.

International students are personally responsible for maintaining their immigration status throughout their stay in the United States and are encouraged to seek advice from the ISSS Director to ensure compliance with the appropriate regulations.

Registration With Immigration

Students need to understand their responsibility for maintaining their legal status in the United States especially with respect to registration with immigration authorities:

- Students are required by immigration law to report to the ISSS Director.
- F-1 students must report to the ISSS Director no later than 30 days after the program start date listed on the student's I-20 Form.
- J-1 students must report to the ISSS Director within 30 days of the program start date listed on the student's DS-2019 Form.
- Students should report sufficiently in advance of the 30-day deadline to allow the school to complete the initial Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) registration process before the deadline.
- SEVIS records of students who do not register with immigration authorities within the stated timeframe will be automatically invalidated.

Immigration Logistics

Other logistical issues students should be aware of as part of their responsibility for maintaining their legal status in the United States include:

- The need to be continuously enrolled in a full course load while an F or J student at SAIS and the conditions under which a reduced course load is permitted with prior authorization from SAIS's ISSS Office
- The need to obtain an updated immigration document for a student and/or any dependents whenever there is a significant change in the source of funding, level of study, etc.

- The need to follow the employment guidelines associated with the particular immigration status with respect to the number of hours per week a student may legally work and the types of employment in which a student may legally engage
- The need to request a new immigration document if traveling outside the United States for more than five months
- The need to make reasonable progress toward the degree and to request any needed extensions before the current student status expires
- The need to inform the ISSS Director of any changes of the residential address within 10 days of the move while in the United States in F or J status

Visit the ISSS section of the SAIS Web site for complete information on rights and responsibilities of students in F-1 and J-1 statuses, their employment options and basic tax information. (Table of Contents)
