The Bernard L. Schwartz Globalization Initiative at SAIS

Academic Seminar Series, 2014-2015

The Technocracy of Austerity: The Politics of Expertise in the Troika during the European Debt Crisis

Prof. Cornel Ban

Boston University

Monday, March 30, 2015
12:30 – 2:00 PM

Johns Hopkins University – SAIS
Rome Building – Room 812
1619 Massachusetts Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20036

Cornel Ban is Assistant Professor of International Relations and co-director of the Global Economic Governance Initiative at Boston University. He is the author of several peer-reviewed articles on Brazil’s liberal neo-developmentalist political economy, sovereign debt crises and austerity in authoritarian regimes, the economic aspects of transnational migration, and the diffusion of German economic ideas in Spain. He co-edited a special issue on the Washington Consensus in the BRICS for Review of International Political Economy, as well as a special issue on the crisis politics and economics of the IMF for Governance. His book on the political economy of crises, with a focus on the role of economic ideas and the interaction between international and domestic actors, is forthcoming with Oxford University Press.

RSVP: http://saiissgiban.eventbrite.com