STAMP CHINESE PROFICIENCY TEST REQUEST FORM

Submit this form along with your testing fee to the Hopkins-Nanjing Center Washington Support Office by email to nanjing@jhu.edu. The testing fee is $25. You can pay online with a credit card at the following link (works best with Firefox or Chrome): <https://webapps.jhu.edu/SAIS/HNC/STAMP/>.

Upon receipt of this form, the Washington Office will email instructions and a practice test link to you, and the testing login codes and proctoring guide to your designated proctor (i.e. a professor, academic administrator or work supervisor). It is not required that your proctor have proficiency in Chinese to administer the test. You and your proctor should arrange a time and place to take the exam, and it should be completed by the application deadline (November 1 for early notification, February 1 for regular decision).

Please note that the STAMP test requires the use of a computer/laptop as well as headphones, and takes approximately 2 hours to administer. You are responsible for completing the reading and listening sections only. After receiving your test results, the admissions office will provide you with an explanation of your score and HNC program eligibility. The test is out of 1600 points total. A score of 1200 is recommended for admission to the Certificate program and a score of 1300 is recommended for admission to the MAIS program. Applicants have typically completed 3-4 years of college level Chinese and spent time in China.
