STAMP CHINESE PROFICIENCY TEST REQUEST FORM

To make arrangements to take the STAMP test, please follow the instructions below or email nanjing@jhu.edu for further testing details.

Begin by completing and submitting this form along with your testing fee to the Hopkins-Nanjing Center Washington Support Office by email or mail. The testing fee is $25. You can pay online with a credit card at the following link: <https://webapps.jhu.edu/SAIS/HNC/STAMP/>. If you prefer to send a check please make it out to “The Johns Hopkins University”.

Upon receipt of this form, the Washington Office will email instructions and a link to a practice test to you, and the testing login codes and proctoring guide to your designated proctor (a professor, academic administrator or work supervisor). It is not required that your proctor have proficiency in Chinese to administer the test. You and your proctor should arrange a time and place to take the exam, and it should be completed by the application deadline of February 1st.

Please note that the STAMP test requires the use of a computer/laptop as well as headphones, and takes approximately 2 hours to administer. You are responsible for completing the reading and listening sections only. After receiving your test results, the admissions office will provide you with a detailed explanation of your score.
