Emerging Markets
Specialization Requirements
Entering Class 2012-2013 (and prior)

1. Students electing to complement their regional concentration with an Emerging Markets specialization must fulfill the requirements of their geographic specialization in one of the following regional programs:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Africa</th>
<th>Middle East</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Asia: China/Korea/South Asia/</td>
<td>Russia and Eurasia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Southeast Asia</td>
<td>Western Hemisphere/Latin America</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- In addition to satisfying the requirements for these programs (typically six courses), students must take two courses in regional programs outside their area of concentration.
- Some academic programs may allow students to take one of their six required courses outside their regional specialization. Students should consult with their regional program directors.
- Students who concentrate in International Development and other functional areas and who wish to add the Emerging Markets Specialization may do so by taking six courses that count as Emerging Market courses. They are welcome to contact Professor Sobol to discuss a possible program.

2. To complete the emerging markets specialization, students must select as their two economics electives—the two courses required beyond Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Trade, and Monetary—courses relating to the emerging markets. Such courses include:

- Asian Economic Development* (320.728.20)
- Case Studies in Financial Sector Reform and Development (380.776)
